WORLD'S SERIES OPENS TODAY

Red Sox Arrive at New York Ready for First Game of Conflict—Both Teams in Fine Condition—Betting Favors Boston 10 to 8.

New York, Oct. 7.—Like two armies on the eve of battle, the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox slept on their arms tonight, dreaming of victory tomorrow. After the long and successful campaign in their respective leagues they were ready for the big engagement that makes for them fame and money. It will be the ninth meeting of the pennant winning teams of the National and American baseball leagues under the present dual organization system, and the winning will break a tie that existed between the two leagues.

Last reports from the rival camps show that not a regular will be missing from the batting list when the umpire says "Play ball" for the first struggle of the series. The Giants had their final workout at the Polo Grounds this afternoon, their opponents being the New York Americans, the tail-enders of the 1912 American league race, who won the game 4 to 3. Russell, pitcher of the Americans, served his puzzling dopes to the National leaguers. The Giants did not put their full strength in the field, neither McGraw nor Egan, nor Tamm, nor Herzog, remained on the field.

The National champions as they came to bat looked fit for the fray tomorrow. Doyle showed no sign of his recent injury, and with the exception of Chief Meyers, who limped slightly, as he has been hit, there were no cases of "Charley horse" in evidence. The trio of star pitchers also appeared to be in condition as they walked across the field to the club house during the game.

There was a big crowd out to see the Giants in their final workout. High school boys who had been invited to see the game almost filled the lower stand of the Polo Grounds.

Major McGraw, with Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commander of the big fleet now in New York harbor, occupied a box close to the Giants' bench, where they shook hands with the veteran Pitcher Mathewson, Marquard and Captain Doyle and others of the National league champions. Scattered through the big stands were thousands of sailors and marines from the fleet, also invited to see the game.

Boston in Fine Condition.
The Boston Red Sox arrived tonight. Orders were for early retiring, and most of the men after reaching their hotel immediately went to their rooms. If there were any players among the American league champions who were not in condition to play, Manager Jake Stahl would not admit it, and certainly none of them appeared so. The visiting team had its final practice at Fenway park, Boston, early in the day and Manager Stahl was so well satisfied with the condition of his men that he will not send them to the American league park tomorrow for a final light workout.

Betting on the world series does not appear to be as general as had been expected. Boston money was to be seen in larger quantities than New York cash, but the supporters of the New York club, taking advantage of the fact that the Boston team appears to be favorite in the betting, are holding out for longer odds. But at odds of 10 to 8 bets were made today.

Picking the winner is just as hazardous a proposition this year as it was in the previous series for the world's championship.

Boston, with its hard-hitting outfield, expects to reach the pitching of New York's twirlers, and hopes that Wood, Collins and O'Brien will keep the Giants off the bases and not give them many chances to show their ability on the paths. The Boston roster points to the steadiness of the team during the league season and do not believe any of the players will "blow up" before the vast crowd.

Fans Follow in Wake of the Team.
Boston, Oct. 7.—Within a few hours of the departure today of the Red Sox for New York, where they will cross bats tomorrow with the Giants in the initial contest of the world's series, hundreds of Boston and of New England baseball enthusiasts followed in their wake. Starting in the late afternoon with the "royal routs" who went 300 strong in a special train, accompanied by a band, the migration continued through the night. Even the accommodations of early morning trains were largely exhausted by the reservation of baseball enthusiasts.

Most of them had reserved seat tickets for the New York game, but others went along with only a hope of getting into the Polo grounds somehow to root for the Red Sox.

The players made the trip practically in seclusion. They had a special car on the Knickerbocker Limited, in which, aside from themselves, were only the wives of Manager Stahl, Duffy Lewis and Charlie Hall, and little Jerry McCarthy, the boy mascot. Governor Foss was on the train and wished the boys luck. The demonstration planned for the Red Sox's departure miscarried as the crowd assembled at the South station, while the players boarded the train at Back Bay.

Wood May Twirl First Game.
Although the outgoing roster took with them enough enthusiasm to make Sox twirlers feel sure tomorrow that the Red Sox have a host of supporters there was still plenty left behind. Boston and it appeared, the greater part of New England, planned to forego business tomorrow and flock to the bulletin boards or tickers, to follow the progress of the game, which the Sox supporters await with confidence.

Confidence in the Red Sox gained strength from the general belief that "Smoky" Joe Wood will pitch for Boston in the opening game.

MEGAPHONE RESULTS OF WORLD'S SERIES GAMES.
Play by Innings Will Be Announced Each Afternoon from Bulletin Office.

The world's series baseball games will be announced play by play from the Bulletin office every afternoon, and the fans who stay at home will thus have an opportunity to experience a part of the excitement, at least, incident to the battle between the two most perfect baseball machines in the world. The wire opens with the opening of play at 2 o'clock.

hitters that will discourage the Boston twirlers.

Charlie Whaley, twirler of the Boston club has the finest team, but considers that in a short series the superior command of McGraw will count for considerable. Stahl, he says, cannot figure with the scrappy Giant leader in managing the battles.

Frank Fagan—The Boston club has been playing great ball all the season, but when the time comes I don't believe the youngsters will stand the gaff. The Giants' regulars are all tried veterans and have been through the strain of a world's series before. The Sox youngsters will fall down in the series and give the Giants the world's championship.

Captain Sullivan of the Athletics says it is an even break. The Giants are now playing good ball and have a team of tried veterans. Boston has played championship ball all season and has a fast, snappy aggregation. The break of luck will decide the series.

C. V. Pandleton says the Giants are the boys to take the long end of the purse this year; that the Athletics had a hard fight and a lot of luck to win last year, and that the Giants are now stronger than ever. New York will have no ditch, but should be able to win out. "Though the Red Sox may be as good as the Athletics were last year, yet they have not behind them in Stahl the wisdom of Connie Mack."

John Hart refuses to favor either team and says it is an even break. A seven-game series would not surprise him, he says.

Ed Price thinks the Giants look good for the world's champions. Last year, he says, New York lost by a close margin, and this year they are better than ever.

Among those who are taking in the opening game of the series today are Edward Redden, Octave Caron, J. B. Caron, Patrick Bray, Dennis Hayes, Thomas Norris, Jeremiah Lacy, James Moore, George Pratt, Andrew Hill and C. V. Pandleton.

I WISHED I HAD BOUGHT A

WE HEAR THAT EVERY DAY

Now Mr. prospective purchaser, don't make the same mistake the other fellow made.

We know it will cost you a little more first cost, but much less in the end, for you can drive a Cadillac 30,000 miles for less money than any car built. We except none.

40 per cent. of 1912 Cadillacs that we sold were bought by people that formerly owned other makes of cars.

What prompted you to change was what we asked one of our customers that had owned three other makes of cars.

- 1st. I had watched several Cadillacs owned by my friends, and each owner was perfectly satisfied.
- 2nd. You have a car that is free from repair bills.
- 3rd. Your're guaranteed the Cadillac free from all mechanical expense for 10,000 miles, which was conclusive proof to me you must know it was built as an Automobile should be.
- 4th. That you can run a Cadillac 15,000 miles without grinding valves or cleaning out carbon.
- 5th. I knew I would not be satisfied until I owned a good car, and I consider the Cadillac the most reliable car built regardless of price.
- 6th. That it was a reliable car built by a reliable factory and sold by a reliable Agent.

THAT IS THE ANSWER.

COOMBS KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS
May Be Unable to Play in the Games of Philadelphia Inter-city Series.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Jack Coombs, pitcher for the Philadelphia American league team, was knocked unconscious by a wild pitch of Earl Moore, pitcher for the National league team, in the sixth inning of the opening game for the inter-league championship of this city today at Shibe park. Coombs was able to walk home after the game, but was badly shaken and may not be able to play in any of the remaining games of the series.

SAYS GIANTS WERE FAVORED.
Philadelphia National League President Makes Strong Accusations.

Horace S. Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National baseball team, in a signed statement issued at Chicago charges that the New York National league team was able to win the pennant this season because the New York team had been unduly favored by umpires. Fogel asserts that had it not been for what he terms "favorable decisions" New York could not possibly have won the pennant. Fogel does not charge the managers of the New York team with corrupting umpires, but he states that it is his belief that certain umpires favored the New York club, in the hope that if New York won the championship they would be assigned to the very profitable work of umpiring the world's championship series.
